95 POINTS

Christian Roguenant is perhaps the most versatile winemaker in California. The Burgundy-born Roguenant made brilliant sparkling wine at one time at Maison Deutz, which no longer exists. He later made his mark with Pinot Noir and Chardonnay at Baileyana, which he still does. And lately he's been blowing us away with some of the most scintillating aromatic white wines in America with Zocker and Tangent. This Tangent Viognier shows an intense nose of honeysuckle and stone fruit. On the palate it offers mouth-watering acidity and wonderful length, with a long, lingering finish. It's one of the finest California Viogniers I've ever tasted.
